HERB BARROWS'S CONDITION IMPROVES

MR WILMINGTON REGAINING STRENGTH IN WINCHESTER HOSPITAL

Herbert Barrows, oldest public official in service in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, who has served the Town of Wilmington for 63 years as a Town Official, is regaining his strength, in the Winchester Hospital.

Stricken by a stroke last Thursday afternoon, the 85 year old 'Mr Wilmington' is under the care of Dr. John Marshall. Improvement, physically, has been noted in the condition of Mr Barrows, up to the last report on Wednesday morning. Dr. Marshall, privately, has expressed the hope that 'He may walk out of here yet.'

The former Selectman, and Chairman of the Finance Committee for many years was the victim of a stroke, Thursday afternoon, while at the home of Peter Chernaga, on Park Street. Believing that he had only slipped, Mr. Barrows got into his truck and drove home, a distance of nearly two miles.

He proposed, when he arrived home, to feed his horses, but was prevented by Mrs. Barrows who noted his condition, and saw that he went to bed while she called Dr. Marshall.

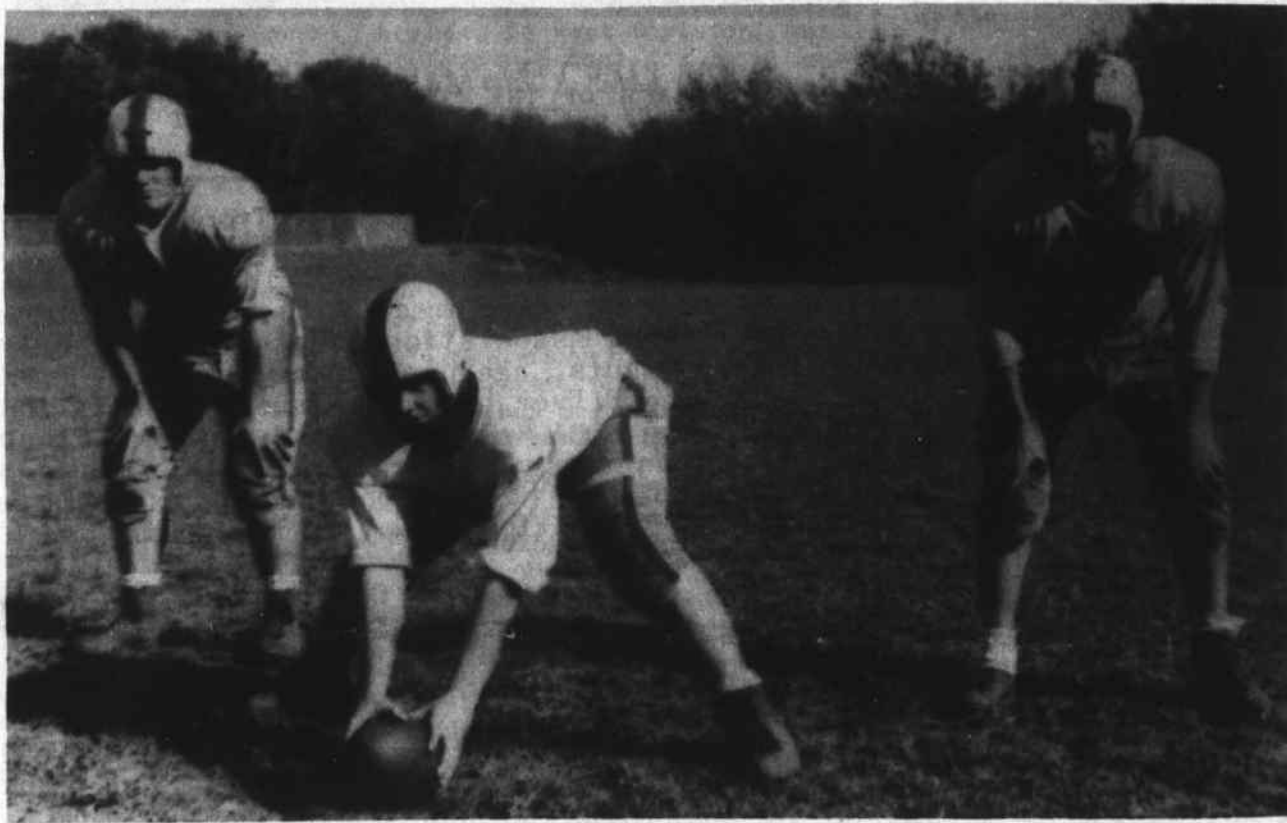

No paralysis has been noted. His condition has steadily but slowly improved.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT PLANS PRESENTED TO APPEAL BOARD Public Dump Proposed to Fill Land

Presenting the Wilmington Board of Appeals with a set of plans for a proposed industrial development on the former Blue Hog Piggery land, more lately known as Bob Moran's property, on South Main Street Clarence Spinazola, 5 Manning Street, Woburn has asked for the right to conduct a sanitary land fill operation on the 95 acre lot.

The plan shows a number of impressive buildings on South Main Street, with side streets about 600 feet apart. A small lake is in back of the development, as shown on the plan.

Spinazola has the backing of the Board of Health, in trying to establish a dump on the land, but the Selectmen have taken a different viewpoint, in some respects at least.

In a letter to the Board of Selectmen Monday night the Board of Health said:

TAX ABATEMENTS

Ordinarily tax bills are supposed to be out and in the hands of the poor taxpayers by the month of July. This year, due to the death of Louis Doucette, and for other reasons the bills were delayed.

Under such ordinary circumstances taxes are supposed to be paid by the first of October, indeed there is a penalty if they remain unpaid
at that date.

Under such circumstances, too, a taxpayer has until the first of October to file for an abatement. Abatements may be had for several reasons, the main ones being for Disabled Veterans, and for widows under certain circumstances, and the average abatement being for $2000 in valuation.

But this year the tax bills were not mailed until September 20th.

That means that an additional 30 days are allowed for filing for abatements. The thirty days end on a Sunday, Oct. 20th. In effect the people get another day, the Monday following to make their last claim.

Which is as it should be.

THE BOY SCOUTS ARE ROLLING AGAIN

Wilmington's Boy Scouts have always been an active crew. A part of the Greater Lowell Council, it is the greatest individual factor, in membership, in the Council. This town, a small part of the council, contributes over 11% of the Scouts to the Council.

Now in its twenty-seventh year, Wilmington's Scouting movement is in the capable hands of Neighborhood Commissioner Foster Balsar, a 23 year veteran of Scouting.

We have at the present time four troops of Boy Scouts, boys aged 11 to 14. Troop 56, sponsored by the Congregational Church, meets in the vestry of that church on Friday nights, at 7 pm. Troop 57, sponsored by the West Wilmington Betterment Association, meets in their hall on Friday nights, again at 7 pm. Troop 58, sponsored by the Silver Lake Betterment Association

meets in the SLBA Hall on Thursday nights. Troop 60 meets in the old North School on Monday nights, at 7 pm. It is sponsored by the Hathaway Acres Association.

We have three packs of Cub Scouts, for boys aged eight to eleven. Cub Packs have only monthly meetings as Packs, with the weekly meeting being Den Meetings at the home of the Den Mothers. Pack 56 is sponsored by a group of citizens in North Wilmington. Pack 58 is sponsored by the Silver Lake Betterment Association. Pack 59 is sponsored by the Wilmington Methodist Church. All three packs are under the supervision of Neighborhood Commissioner Anthony Meads of Main Street.

Wilmington also has a Sea-Explorer Ship, No.
59, sponsored by the Methodist Church for boys aged 14 to 18, led by Skipper Henry Hesse.
The Explorers meet on Thursday nights, at the Methodist Church.

The first big event for the Wilmington Scout movement will be a "Startoree" at Camp Forty Acres, on October 4, 5 & 6. Included in the Startoree will be an invitation to other boys, by the Scouts themselves, to come as guests. Each Scout will be expected to bring one boy, a potential Scout, to participate in the event.

The Sea Explorers will participate in the Startoree, as leaders and guards. The Cub Scout movement, which is home centered, will not be a part of the Startoree.

All-told Wilmington has the means to keep every boy, 8 to 18 busy and out of mischief. The program is offered. The rest is up to the boys and their parents.

TOWN NOTES

Weather

The last week of summer was warm and pleasant. Sometimes Wilmington suffers its first frost before the summer is over, but such was not the case this year. Crops grew right up to the end of the season, and they're still growing.

A total of .27 inches of rain this week, .25 of which was on the 17th of September.

Apples

Back in the old days, about the time of World War 1 the boys of Wilmington would be very busy at this time of the year, raiding, or otherwise visiting the farmer's orchards after the nice succulent apples that grew in those days, and grow no more, thanks to all the modern insects, which seem to grow more in strength and numbers as modern science invents new and more potent insecticides.

We were thinking about it, as we watched the sun set, last Saturday. The apples that old Tom McMahon used to guard so zealously, the two Blue Pear Maine trees that used to be up on Tom Daly's farm, and the Russet tree, that stood behind the High School - now the Swain School.

A person who has never eaten
a Blue Pear Maine doesn't know what an apple is. It was a "hard" apple, which, when it was ripe had blue streaks interposed with the red on its skin. The blue, we have no doubt, was part of the reason for its name, but we never could figure out where the Pear part came.

There was another Blue Pear
Maine, on Pop Neilson's hill, (now the Joyce farm). It stood near the door of the carriage shed, and schoolboys would knock down a supply, with stones, on the way to school,
make sure they were well bruised, and leave them in the carriage shed.

Then, in the afternoon, after school was over those apples would be retrieved. They would be just overflowing with the most delicious cider we ever tasted.

Those were the days.

New England Club

Paul Todd, and Mrs Todd, formerly of Chestnut Street were in Wilmington for a visit this week, much to the surprise of their friends.

The biggest news they brought us was that Waldo Dean was still alive and kicking. Somehow we had just about forgotten that gentleman, who used to live on Clark Street about 25 years ago.

The Todds stopped into the New England Club, in Tuscon, Arizona, a few months ago, and there was Waldo, just as big as life, and still kicking.

LETTER

Town Crier of Wilmington
Gentlemen:

The Mytron Plant

I have read your paper ever since it started, and find it to be the finest news organ for the Town of Wilmington.

However I am very surprised that you have never had a good word to say for the Mytron plant, in North Wilmington. During the past few months these people have done a lot to improve the appearance of their plant, and I think they deserve a lot of credit.

Yours very truly

Observant Citizen

(name withheld by request)

So do we. They are very fine neighbors - but it must be a case of their being just too near to our office for us to see it.

DECRIES LACK OF PLAYGROUNDS LETTER

Dear Larz:

I don't know if you realize it, but Wilmington is getting to the point where we need children's playgrounds. I see children playing in the streets - I know of a neighbor who was hit by a baseball just the other day, in front of her house. Can't something be done to provide our children with playgrounds?

(Name Withheld by Request)
Last week the Little League asked some men to come up to the Little League Park on Saturday, to fix it up. Two men showed up. We suggest you get your husband up to the Little League Park next Saturday, and there will be at least one spot where baseball can be played.

PTA MEETING - LETTER

Town Crier of Wilmington.
Gentlemen:

Thank you very much for your coverage of the Parent Teacher Association meeting last week. You were very prompt in getting the news.

Enclosed is a complete account, which we would like to have published, because of the importance we attach to our organization.

Mrs Evelyn McLean

The first meeting of the Wilmington Parent-Teacher Association of this season was held in the High School Auditorium last Tuesday. It was the largest attended in local PTA history; about 250 parents including close to 20 teachers.

The Juvenile Delinquency situation as it exists today in Middlesex County was thoroughly discussed in a frank and easily understood manner by Ted Nichols, Juvenile Parole Agent, Sargeant Imbimbo, of Wilmington police, and Mr John Byrns Ass't Supt. of all Mass Juvenile Parole officers. Numerous requests have been received to have them repeat the lecture to students in assembly in the High School Auditorium; one session for boys and another for girls. These three experts have agreed to do so if school officials grant permission. Also, if enough parents who missed the meeting care for an opportunity to hear it, a repeat adult lecture can be scheduled later.

Sgt. Imbimbo spoke on police procedure in relation to juveniles. How the juvenile is treated when he first becomes involved in police matters and the additional involvement of parents, probation officers, court, and other government agencies.

Ted Nichols told the group what happens to a boy who is adjudicated a delinquent by the court. From court they are taken to the Youth Service Board Reception Center in Roslindale where they spend from three to six weeks where they go through a classification process - tested by psychologists etc. Then they meet with the three members of the youth service board who decide which school of the division of youth service would best serve the particular needs of the boy. The youth service board can send the juvenile to one of the following schools. John Augustus Hall (ages 7-11) located in West Boylston, Mass. Lyman School for boys (ages 10-16) located in Westboro. Industrial school for boys (ages 16-18) located in Shirley, Mass., and the Institute for Juvenile Guidance, located in West Bridgewater, Mass.

When the boy has completed his stay at the particular school he is released on parole. He then comes under the supervision of a Juvenile Parole Agent. While on parole the boy has to meet certain parole requirements. If the boy fails to meet those requirements he may be returned to the school from which he was paroled. Ted explained during his lecture that the term 'boy' was to simplify matters, but also referred to girls.

Mr Byrns discussed the great sociological changes taking place in Middlesex County and Wilmington. He stressed the importance in the handling of the teen-ager by the parents, watching their dress, especially the young girl. He advised parents to dress the teen-age girls in clothing fit for her age and not a 'sophisticated thirty year old model', let her remain a child longer; a boy should not be allowed to wear the black leather jacket, garrison belt, and D.A. haircut, and every child should attend their church. Byrns urged parents to back the teachers 100% and that they should spend their evenings during the school week in the house, doing homework and any chores, such as dishes, etc.

LITTLE LEAGUE PRESIDENT BOB HASTINGS

LITTLE LEAGUE PRESIDENT BOB HASTINGS IS VERY MUCH AN EXTROVERT, AS THESE PICTURES SHOW. HE IS THE TYPE OF MAN WHO CAN BE THE LIFE OF ANY PARTY.

IN THE TOP PICTURE HE IS 'SHUSHING UP' THE LITTLE LEAGERS, DURING THEIR ANNUAL BANQUET.

IN THE SECOND PICTURE BOB HAS INTRODUCED MRS. MARION FARRELL, PRESIDENT OF THE AUXILIARY. BOB WAS QUIET AT THE MOMENT THE CAMERA SNAPPED, BUT ONLY FOR THAT MOMENT.

IN THE BOTTOM PICTURE HE ACCEPTS THE CONGRATULATIONS OF JOHN DALY, ONE OF THE LITTLE LEAGUE OFFICIALS, AFTER HAVING ACCEPTED A TOKEN REWARD FOR HIS WORK.

LITTLE LEAGUE BANQUET WINDS UP SUCCESSFUL SEASON

The Wilmington Little League has reason to be proud of its past season declared President Bob (Gravel Voice) Hastings, at the conclusion of the Little League Banquet, in the High School Cafeteria, last Saturday evening.

120 whooping and hollering boys, and their guests partook of a turkey supper prepared by the ladies of the Little League Auxiliary, and then adjourned to the Herbert C Barrows Auditorium where the awards were given.

The whooping and hollering was pretty well held in line by the Little League Officials but the boys were full of spirits, and Bob Hastings very well earned his sobriquet of 'Gravel Voice' before the evening was over.

Prominent among the invited guests, in addition to the Little League officials were Father Leahy of St. Thomas, Doug Hoag, of the Unit Packing Company, sponsors of the Major League Champions, the Tigers, and three Minor League sponsors, all also-ran teams, Corydon Oombs, Fred Cain and Jack Pastor, of Stevens Supermarket. Jack Pastor leant the most color of all to the evening, in a brilliant red jacket.

Also prominent was the unofficial Mayor of Wilmington, straight from the shoulder George Spanos.

Pins Awarded

'Graduation Pins' were awarded to twelve year old boys, veterans of the Little League, who by the rules can no longer play in the sponsored games. They were invited into the Pony League by Larry Cushing, at the conclusion of the awards.

Pins were given to:

INDIANS David Babine, Ralph Kelmon, James MacMullin, William Rochefort, and Edward White
RED SOX Richard Allard, Malcolm Anderson, Ted McCormack, James Szadis and Arthur Zaino.

TIGERS Mark Bliss, John Cavanaugh, Gerald Paglia, Thomas Southmayd, Kenneth Sugarman.

The Minor League Championship trophy was awarded to Messrs George Szadis, pere et fils, representing the Wilmington Ford Company, and co-managers of the Red Legs.

President Bob Hastings of the Little League was given a certificate of appreciation, as was President Marion Farrell of the Little League Auxiliary.

In what was his valedictory address, Bob Hastings declared that the Wilmington Little League continues to grow, thanks to the assistance given by the sponsors, and that this year was the best ever, their tournament team being beaten only by a team from a region twice as large in population as Wilmington, and due to be cut into two leagues next year.

full of vigor, the other day, promising to go up to the field and help prepare it for the coming season. Over a dozen men promised to be there Saturday morning.

Two men showed up.

At that rate there won't be any field for next year.

The Reading Story

Last week's readers were treated to the story which we reprinted from the Reading Chronicle. It seems we weren't alone, for the Boston Herald, too, picked up the story.

Bob Winslow, the good natured field driver of Reading turned the story into a good channel, with the aid of a local artist. A big painting was made of 'Old Nel' the hero horse, and all by-comers were invited to contribute their Field Drivers donation of 50¢ towards the Cancer Fund.

The Half Dollar

We don't know whether to feel gratified or otherwise. A lady called us last week, and she was seeking the answer for a problem her daughter had in school. Her daughter, we believe, is a freshman, in the commercial course.

The mother told us that she had been seeking for five hours in an encyclopedia that had cost over $100, and had called the public library, but was unable to get the answer. Of course the distaff member of our household had to say something to the effect that our encyclopedia would have the answer, and it cost only $25 - which sounded very good, but the answer wasn't there.

The question was: Who is the person on the reverse of a half dollar piece?

Our own Olympian answer was that it was the goddess Ceres. It satisfied the lady, but now she has us guessing -- were we right?

Better Late than Never

The Massachusetts Department of Commerce publishes a bulletin every month, in which it recognizes progress, on the part of Massachusetts firms.

This month one of the feature stories concerned the added building at the National Poly-

Chemical plant, on Eames St. The story was very good - but about one year late.

Discretion vs Valor

Officer Joe Balestieri could have been a hero, had he so chosen, last Sunday evening.

He was called to a Fairmeadow Road home. It seemed that a rodent, better known as a skunk, had entered the cellar. Joe was equal to the task. He just left the cellar door open and after a while the skunk left - with no malicious memories lingering behind him.

Joe won't get any Valor Medal for his act - but who would want a medal under such circumstances?

Tax Bills

The Town Hall was filled, Monday night, by tax payers who wanted to see the Assessors. It was a result, of course, of the tax bills coming out during the past week.

A goodly number of the taxpayers, for the first time, were interested in seeing how the assessed valuation of their home was arrived at.

What we have been wondering was how many of those same people bothered to attend the Town Meeting?

LATEST HIGHWAY PLANS SHOW
ROUTE 28 RAMP TO CROSS
BALLARDVALE STREET

The latest plans for Route 28 show that the northwest ramp of the big turn-out north of Salem Street will cross Ballardvale Street, instead of being all to the eastward of it.

The southern end of the ramp will cross Ballardvale Street at a point about 1000 feet north of the home of the late Louis Doucette, while the other crossing will be at about the point where the Evans' home back driveway is.

Houses to be affected on Park Street by the new layout are the Ethier Home, which will have to be moved, and perhaps the Bailey home, which will be just on the edge of the land taking.

Part of the frontage for the next three homes, on the same side of the street will also be affected, but the homes will be untouched.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev Fr Frank Toolin, of Boston College, a cousin of the bride, assisted by Rev Joseph Leahy of St Dorothy's, and a reception followed at the Moose Hall, Woburn.

Escorted down the aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white nylon sheer gown over taffeta. The bodice was fitted, with scoop neckline and small cap sleeves. The gown was fashioned with chapel train, and bouffant hoop style skirt. Her flowers were a white orchid, encased in her prayer book, with baby stephanotis.

Mr John Peters of Lexington was best man, and ushers included Mr Daniel McCormack, Neill McCormack, and Hugh McCormack, brothers of the bride.

The bride's mother wore gray lace over pink taffeta, with small-matching hat. Her corsage was an orchid.

ald Road, that arrangement was of temporary nature until a more suitable location could be found.

The Board of Health is now of the opinion that a site suitable by reason of location, transportation and area has been found. This site is the land belonging to one Clarence Spinazola on Lower Main St. The Board of Health and its agent has examined the site and found it to be acceptable. Located off Main Street it should be easily reached. With approximately 100 acres of land and with abutments at least a quarter of a mile or more away, it should not cause any traffic problems. Deep water holes with high capacity pumps should lower fire hazard Sand and gravel at site should furnish suitable cover material.

The only type of dump that the Board of Health will permit in this area is a sanitary land fill operation with absolutely no burning or garbage permitted. The trench method which will be the type employed will consist of trenches 12 ft to 18 ft wide and 4 ft in depth, with the length varying. The trenches will be covered by two feet of fill and the face of same will have at least six inches of cover. This will have two advantages:

1 Prevent rodent and insect infestation

2 Prevent or stop a fire that may have caught in one cell. Each trench will be at least two feet apart thus further confining it. Sanitary landfills have been operated in congested areas without fire, odor, insect or rodent problems.

The dump will be operated by Mr. Spinazola at a cost of $4,000 per year renewable at the end of the year. For this Mr Spinazola will have to furnish a bond satisfactory to the Town, plus insurance, machinery, etc. Mr. Spinazola will be permitted to accept commercial private refuse collectors from this Town as well as the outside.

The Board of Health firmly believes that this is a progressive step and is in accordance with better sanitary engineering practices. It is not only a financial savings of $4,000 as opposed to $8,000, but as an equally important measure will rid the town of open dump sores and recover valuable land. The Board of Health therefore requests the endorsement of this measure by the Town Manager and the Board of Selectmen.

Sincerely yours,

Patrick A. Thibau, Agent.

Endorsed with Reservations

Both Charles H. Black, veteran member of the Board of Selectmen, and Town Manager Joseph Courtney had a few words to say on the proposal, words which led to the Selectmen endorsing the proposal with reservations.

$5000 Fee Asked

Mr Black opened the discussion by saying that he was in favor of a dump for the people of Wilmington, but not necessarily in favor of one for people or other towns, in Wilmington. Pointing out that for years a dump license had been refused to Robert Moran, Black suggested that a minimum fee of $5000 annually be imposed for a license.

He also asked that means be taken to be certain of the bounds in the area, pointing out that there had been questions about the bounds, with a lot of land in dispute.

Selectman Nick De Felice joined with Black, pointing out that unless limits were imposed 'we could be getting refuse from the City of Somerville - or even from Connecticut'.

At the same time De Felice recounted how Reading had been filling a site for years, and, he believed, would soon be erecting a stadium on the site.

TM Courtney pointed out that 'it is one of those things which, if not run properly could become an awful proposition.'

He stated that he had heard a lot, in some time, about this proposal, but that he didn't know if any of the stories were factual.

De Felice: 'Can we limit him to a radius of action?'

Selectman Kidder 'We don't want all the refuse on this side of Boston.'

De Felice: 'How about limiting the number of loads in a day, or something like that.'

Mrs Drew: I am willing to endorse it, but with reservations.

The result was that, although the Selectmen didn't exactly agree as to what the reservations would be, they did endorse the proposition partially, and did agree to impose some type of restrictions before granting a license.

The probability is that the Selectmen will make a point of attending the Board of Appeals hearing on October 3rd to further develop their plans.
